PULSE is mobilizing the Twin Cities toward the largest citywide outreach in over a decade.

Through an all-in season of prayer, training, and unity with local pastors, churches, and parachurch ministries, we want to fill all 66,200 seats in U.S. Bank Stadium and share about the reset Jesus offers.

We believe the message of Jesus belongs in the greatest venues in the world.

The months leading up to and extending from Pulse Twin Cities will include prayer and worship events, evangelism training, pastors gatherings bringing together the Church to make Jesus known, and an intricate follow-up system that will connect people to local churches and provide digital resources to facilitate a growing relationship with Jesus.

The Pulse Twin Cities season could draw as many as 100,000 people. Advertising across the Twin Cities will include radio, billboards, yard signs, posters, digital display, and more.

Your organization can be part of this amazing season.
